

Phresco-Commons

java-standalone - 1.6

version :3.3.1.16002-SNAPSHOT

A standalone application is one that can be executed independently and would execute and produce some output either as a UI or on the JVM console. Any java class with a main method can be considered a mini standalone java application.